

The better way to manage travel payments

Managing international payments can be complex, costly and time-consuming for travel businesses. Traditional payment solutions often lack the industry-specific capabilities required to optimize transactions, leading to delays, high fees and reconciliation headaches.

Flywire is built specifically for the travel industry, with faster, more secure and transparent payments to help accelerate revenue, reduce costs and enhance the guest experience.

Without Flywire

Payment delays

Delayed payments with limited insight into payment status.

High transaction fees

High incoming merchant fees and bank charges resulting in short-balance payments.

Complex, manual process

Manual tracking and matching individual transactions to bank statements, leading to time-consuming administrative tasks.

Frustrated guests

Limited payment options for guests plus requirement to work with multiple partners to enable multitude of methods.

Security concerns

Security and compliance responsibilities fall on your business, adding risk.

Solutions not tailored for you

Generic payment solutions with limited customization for the travel industry.

Customer support issues

General customer service across multiple providers and partners makes it challenging to answer payment inquiries promptly.

With Flywire

Faster, transparent payments

Flywire doesn't hold funds so payments arrive quickly, with the ability to track all payments in one dashboard.

40% savings on transaction costs

Incoming merchant card and bank wire fees reduced significantly through our optimized global payment network.

Time savings, simplified processes

Automated invoicing, matching and reconciling payments gives valuable time back so you can focus on growing your business.

Elevated guest experience

Offer your guests flexible, local payment options including bank transfers, cards, and alternative payment methods with a single partner.

Secure transactions

Flywire's team covers anti-money laundering, compliance, and global security so you and your guests feel safe making payments.

Built for travel

Our platform easily integrates into your existing booking and property management systems to streamline payment processes.

Dedicated support

Dedicated around-the-clock multilingual support from travel experts who understand the industry and understand your market.

Ready to streamline your travel payments?

Schedule a demo today to learn how much Flywire can save your business in money and man-hours.

flywire.com/travel